PLAINTIFF'S SECOND AMENDED COMPLAINT

INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiff, JOD SELOU (hereinafter, "Plaintiff" or "SELOU") brings this Complaint for damages, injunctive relief, and any other available legal or equitable remedies, resulting from the illegal actions of the below named Defendants, in negligently and/or intentionally contacting Plaintiff on Plaintiff's cellular telephone, in violation of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act, 47 U.S.C. § 227 et seq. (Hereinafter "TCPA"). Plaintiff also brings this action for damages, against certain of these Defendants as further detailed below for violating the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (Hereinafter "FDCPA"), 15 U.S.C. § 1692 et seq., the Michigan Occupational Code (Hereinafter "MOC"), M.C.L. § 339.901 et seq. or alternatively the Michigan Regulation of Collection Practice Act, (Hereinafter "MRCPA") MCL 445.251 et seq., as follows, upon personal knowledge as to herself and her own acts and experiences, and, as to all other matters, upon information and belief, including investigation conducted by her attorneys.

2. The TCPA was designed to prevent calls like the ones described within this complaint, and to protect the privacy of citizens like Plaintiff. "Voluminous consumer complaints about abuses of telephone technology – for example, computerized calls dispatched to private homes – prompted Congress to pass the TCPA." Mims v. Arrow Fin. Servs., LLC, 132 S. Ct. 740, 744 (2012).

3. In enacting the TCPA, Congress intended to give consumers a choice as to how creditors, debt collectors and telemarketers may call them, and made specific findings that

“[t]echnologies that might allow consumers to avoid receiving such calls are not universally available, are costly, are unlikely to be enforced, or place an inordinate burden on the consumer.” TCPA, Pub.L. No. 102–243, § 11.

Toward this end, Congress found that:

[b]anning such automated or prerecorded telephone calls to the home, except when the receiving party consents to receiving the call or when such calls are necessary in an emergency situation affecting the health and safety of the consumer, is the only effective means of protecting telephone consumers from this nuisance and privacy invasion.

Id. at § 12; see also Martin v. Leading Edge Recovery Solutions, LLC, 2012 WL 3292838, at* 4 (N.D. Ill. Aug. 10, 2012) (citing Congressional findings on TCPA’s purpose).

4. The TCPA gives rulemaking authority to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to prescribe regulations to implement the requirements of the TCPA. 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(2).

5. The TCPA regulates the use of automated telephone equipment, also known as Automated Telephone Dialing Systems (Hereinafter “ATDS”), auto-dialers or robo-dialers, which have the capacity to store or produce telephone numbers to be called, using a random or sequential number generator, and to dial such numbers.

6. The TCPA makes it illegal to use auto-dialers to place calls to a cellular phone other than for an emergency purpose or with the prior express consent of the called party.

7. In 2003, the FCC issued a Report and Order addressing, in part, autodialed and prerecorded message calls made to cellular telephone numbers. The FCC affirmed that, with two narrow exceptions, it is unlawful to make any call using an automatic telephone dialing system or artificial or prerecorded message to any wireless number. The exceptions, inapplicable to the instant case, include calls made for emergency purposes and with prior express consent. See In Re Rules & Regulations Implementing the Tel. Consumer Prot. Act of 1991, 18 F.C.C.R 14014, 14115-16 (2003).

8. With respect to autodialed debt collection calls, in a 2008 Declaratory Ruling, the FCC clarified that autodialed and prerecorded or artificial message calls to a cellular phone number by or on behalf of a creditor are permitted only if the calls are made with the prior express consent of the called party. Prior express consent is deemed to be granted only if the wireless number was provided by the consumer to the creditor, and provided during the transaction that resulted in the debt owed. In the Matter of Rules and Regulations Implementing the Tel. Consumer Prot. Act of 1991, 23 F.C.C.R. 559, 564-65 (2008).

9. Although the collection industry has argued to the contrary, the TCPA prohibitions are not limited to telemarketing calls; debt-collection calls are covered. Mims v Arrow Financial Services, LLC, U.S. Supreme Court, 421 Fed. Appx. 920 (2012), Brown v. Hosto & Buchan, PLLC, 748 F.Supp.2d 847 (W.D. Tenn. 2010); In re Rules & Regulations Implementing Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991, Request of ACA International for Clarification and Declaratory Ruling, 23 F.C.C.R. 559, 561 (2008) (“ACA Declaratory Ruling”); Brown v. Enterprise Recovery Systems, Inc., No. 02-11-00436-CV, 2013 WL 4506582, *5 (Tex.App. Aug. 22, 2013).

10. A predictive dialer constitutes an automatic telephone dialing system within the meaning of the TCPA. See In the Matter of Rules and Regulations Implementing the Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991, F.C.C. 07-232, 23 F.C.C. R. 559, 566 ¶ 12 & 13 (Dec. 28, 2007) released Jan. 4, 2008). In that Ruling, the Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”) for a second time rejected the position that a predictive dialer only meets the definition of an ATDS when it randomly or sequentially generates numbers. Rather, it stated “In this Declaratory Ruling, we affirm that a predictive dialer constitutes an automatic telephone system and is subject to the TCPA's restrictions on the use of auto-dialers." 23 F.C.C. R. 559, 566 ¶ 12.

11. Dead air calls are the mark of predictive dialers. As stated by the FCC, "The record before us revealed that consumers often face "dead air" calls and repeated hang-ups resulting from the use of predictive dialers." Rules and Regulations Implementing the Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991, 70 Fed. Reg. 19330, 19334 (April 13, 2005).

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. 51. Likewise, the Davis court citing Echevvaria, found that “it is undisputed that LiveVox is a ‘predictive dialer’ that dials from lists of numbers ... viewing the facts in the light most favorable to defendant, the evidence demonstrates that defendant used an ATDS to call plaintiff, without his prior consent. Accordingly, plaintiff is entitled to summary judgment that defendant violated § 227 of the TCPA.” Davis v. Diversified Consultants, Inc., 36 F. Supp. 3d 217, at 226 (D. Mass. 2014).

(Integrity), a St. Charles, MO-based provider of ARM and CRM. Additionally, RGS announced that it has acquired Veldos, LLC (Veldos), a Wayne, PA-based provider of ARM, CRM and HRCM. Financial terms of the two transactions

64. Defendants act jointly and in concert to collect consumer debts incurred primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

65. Defendants, Radius and IA assumed responsibility (either impliedly or expressly) for the actions of INTEGRITY.

66. At all relevant times, Defendants were a debt collector as that term is defined by 15 U.S.C. §1692a(6), and repeatedly contacted Plaintiff in an attempt to collect a debt.

67. At all relevant times, Defendants acted through its duly authorized agents, employees, officers, members, directors, heirs, successors, assigns, principals, trustees, sureties, subrogees, representatives, and insurers.

68. At all times relevant to this complaint INTEGRITY sought to collect a "consumer" debt.

69. Plaintiff's debt arose from a transaction with a Creditor which was primarily for family, personal or household purposes to wit, student loans with Sallie Mae and which meets the definition of a "debt" under 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(5) as well as under the cited state statutes.

70. The defaulted debt was assigned, transferred or sold to Navient.

71. Starting sometime in late 2011 or early 2012, Defendant INTEGRITY commenced collection activity by dialing plaintiff's cell phone with the use of an automated telephone dialing system to collect a student loan debt.

72. In 2012, Plaintiff agreed to make payments and INTEGRITY temporarily ceased collection calls.

73. Sometime during the spring months of 2014, plaintiff stopped making payments after which INTEGRITY commenced placing numerous telephone collection calls to Plaintiff's cellular telephone numbers, (786) 505-8216 and (810) 845-1916 with the use of its automated telephone dialing system (hereinafter "ATDS") in an attempt to collect a debt

74. INTEGRITY continued its collection calls through June 2014 after which the plaintiff's debt was transferred or assigned to CCS for collections.

75. Thereafter commencing in July 2014, CCS identified itself as the collection agency taking over to collect the plaintiff's student loan debt, and repeatedly called Plaintiff in its attempts to collect the debt.

76. CCS, along with and through its affiliate LiveVox, engaged in the same harassing and repeated collection calling as INTEGRITY.

77. LiveVox was involved in creating and/or implementing CCS's procedure relating to contacting consumers, including Plaintiff, using an automatic telephone system or using an artificial or prerecorded voice.

78. Both INTEGRITY and CCS also placed numerous calls to Plaintiff's place of employment and discussed Plaintiff's debt with her co-workers.

79. Plaintiff requested both INTEGRITY and CCS, orally to stop calling her and her parent's telephones and her place of employment and despite this, Defendants continued to call.

80. On May 26, 2013, Plaintiff requested in writing, INTEGRITY to "please stop calling my "number on file ... I am being harassed at work. Send all correspondence by mail – 9251 Warwick Woods Ct, Grand Blanc, MI 48439."

81. Both INTEGRITY and CCS continued to place collection calls to Plaintiff's cell phones despite receipt of her written cease and desist letters in violation of § 1692c(c) After written notification that consumer refuses to pay debt, or that consumer wants collector to cease communication.

82. At various times during the years 2012 - 2014, Plaintiff allowed INTEGRITY to withdraw automated payments from her bank account so she could pay down her student loan debts and stop the harassing calls to her and her family and employer.

83. INTEGRITY attempted to withdraw larger amounts than agreed to and when Plaintiff cancelled bank transfer payments INTEGRITY began automated collection calls to Plaintiff's cell phones despite having received her written communication from Plaintiff requesting no further calls.

84. Despite written and oral requests to stop, DEFENDANTS INTEGRITY and CCS continued calling Plaintiff and Plaintiff's related third parties in an attempt to collect a debt which Plaintiff disputed as to the amount owing.

85. INTEGRITY and CCS also called the business telephone number of Plaintiff's place of employment on multiple occasions despite Plaintiff's requests that they stop calling her place of employment.

86. INTEGRITY's debt collectors told Plaintiff's co - workers that it was an emergency and to have Plaintiff immediately return the calls.

87. Neither INTEGRITY nor CCS ever stated to Plaintiff's employer and co-employees that they were "calling to correct or confirm location information".

88. A debt collector when communicating with any person other than the consumer for the purpose of acquiring location information about the consumer shall identify himself, state that he is confirming or correcting location information concerning the consumer, and, only if expressly requested, identify his employer. 15 U.S.C. § 1692b(1).

89. INTEGRITY and CCS failed to comply with 15 U.S.C. § 1692b(1), violating the FDCPA.

90. A debt collector when communicating with any person other than the consumer for the purpose of acquiring location information about the consumer shall not state that such consumer owes any debt. 15 U.S.C. § 1692b(2).

91. INTEGRITY and CCS failed to comply with 15 U.S.C. § 1692b(2), violating the FDCPA.

92. A debt collector when communicating with any person other than the consumer for the purpose of acquiring location information about the consumer shall not communicate with such person more than once unless requested to do so by such person or unless the debt collector reasonably believes that the earlier response of such person is erroneous or incomplete and that such person now has correct or complete location information. 15 U.S.C. § 1692b(3).

93. INTEGRITY and CCS failed to comply with 15 U.S.C. § 1692b(3), violating the FDCPA.

94. Both INTEGRITY and CCS ignored Plaintiff's request as well as the requests of Plaintiff's parents to stop calling.

95. Both INTEGRITY and CCS, each placed between 20-30 calls to plaintiff's parents.

96. INTEGRITY and CCS's prohibited third party contacts caused Plaintiff much distress, embarrassment and strain in her family relations and were intended to harass and coerce Plaintiff into paying.

97. Plaintiff attempted to answer calls from INTEGRITY and CCS but on many occasions after picking up she would only hear dead air prior to the call being disconnected.

98. INTEGRITY and CCS' harassing calls originated from telephone numbers including, but not limited to 216-278-0060, 201-244-7134, 313-355-1801, 313-879-1146, 313-879-3382, and 313-879-3379.

99. On many occasions, Defendants' telephone calls put forth caller ID which was false and misleading and led the Plaintiff to believe the calls were originating from the local area instead INTEGRITY and CCS's call centers located out of state.

100. Plaintiff's cellular telephone number was assigned to a . . . cellular telephone service as the phrase is used in the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. §227(b)(1)(A).

101. Upon information and belief, the calls from Defendants to Plaintiff's cellular phone were made using an automatic telephone dialing system

("ATDS") which had the capability to store and dial telephone numbers in a random or sequential order without human intervention as defined by 47 U.S.C. § 227(a)(1) and/or used an artificial or prerecorded voice prohibited by 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(1)(A).

102. Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS, used an automatic telephone dialing system as defined at 47 C.F.R. 64.1200(f)(1) to make the above-described calls to Plaintiff's cellular telephone with its ATDS.

103. Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS made repeated automated calls to SELOU'S cell phone in violation of the TCPA's prohibitions on automated calls to cell phones. See 47 U.S.C. 227(b).

104. Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS used an artificial or prerecorded voice as the phrase is used in the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. §227(b)(1)(A), to communicate with plaintiff during its collection attempts.

105. Plaintiff believes that Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS' calls were placed to her cell phone with the use of an ATDS because Defendants used artificial and pre-recorded voice messages/Interactive Voice Recognition (IVR) with a high percent of the calls, which Plaintiff answered, being abandoned.

106. On these calls Plaintiff heard clicking noises, dead air and experienced delays on her cell phone during the time that the pre-recorded message informed Plaintiff to stay on the line to get connected [with a live operator].

107. None of the above-described calls made by Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS to Plaintiff's cellular telephone were made for emergency purposes as the phrase is used in the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. §227(b)(1)(A).

108. Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS did not obtain Plaintiff's prior express consent as the phrase is used in the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. §227(b)(1)(A) to make the above-described calls to Plaintiff's cellular telephone.

109. Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS did not have an established business relationship with Plaintiff as the phrase is used in the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. §227(a)(4) when Defendants made the above-described calls to Plaintiff's cellular telephone.

110. Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS are not a tax exempt nonprofit organization as the phrase is used in the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. §227(a)(4).

111. Plaintiff did not provide her cellular telephone number to Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS.

112. Plaintiff did not provide her cellular telephone number to the entity on whose behalf Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS were attempting to collect the alleged debt from Plaintiff and/or revoked her consent to being robo-dialed on her cell phone.

113. Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS used an automatic telephone dialing system as defined by 47 U.S.C. §227(a)(1) to make the above-described calls to Plaintiff's cellular telephone, without Plaintiff's prior express consent and for a non-emergency purpose, in violation of the TCPA, 47 U.S.C. §227(b)(1)(A)(iii).

114. The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) was given the authority to issue orders implementing the TCPA. The FCC has issued an order that states:

The creditors are in the best position to have records kept in the usual course of business showing such consent, such as purchase agreements, sales slips, and credit applications. Should a question arise as to whether express consent was provided, the burden will be on the creditor to show it obtained the necessary prior express consent. Similarly, a creditor on whose behalf an autodialed or prerecorded message call is made to a wireless number bears the responsibility for any violation of the Commission's rules. Calls placed by a third party collector on behalf of that creditor are treated as if the creditor itself placed the call. In re Rules Implementing the Tel. Consumer Prot. Act of 1991, 23 FCC Rcd 559, 565 (F.C.C. 2007), paragraph 10. (Footnotes omitted) (Emphasis added).

115. Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS knowingly violated the TCPA.

116. Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS willfully violated the TCPA.

Respondent Superior Liability

117. The acts and omissions of Defendants, INTEGRITY and CCS and the individual debt collectors employed as agents by Defendants, who communicated with Plaintiff as described herein, were committed within the time and scope limits of their agency relationship with their principal, Defendants.

118. The acts and omissions by Defendants' agents were incidental to, or of the same general nature as, the responsibilities these agents were authorized to perform by Defendants in collecting consumer debts.

119. By committing these acts and omissions against Plaintiff, Defendants' agents were motivated to benefit their principal, Defendants.

120. Defendants are therefore liable to Plaintiff through the Doctrine of Respondent Superior for the intentional and negligent acts, errors, and omissions done in violation of state and federal law by its collection employees, including but not limited to violations of the TCPA and the FDCPA in Defendants' attempts to collect this debt from Plaintiff.

121. INTEGRITY, CCS, LiveVox, IA, Radius and Navient are liable to Plaintiff through the Doctrine of Respondeat Superior for the intentional and negligent acts, errors, and omissions done in violation of state and federal law by any individual employee(s) working on their behalf, including but not limited to violations of the TCPA, FDCPA and state law pled herein.

122. Plaintiff is informed and believes and based thereon alleges that all defendants, were at all relevant times acting as actual agents, conspirators,
